The Carol Stream Police Department has achieved second place in the 2008 International Association of Chiefs of Police National Law Enforcement Challenge. The award recognizes the Department's excellence in traffic safety. "I am very proud of our officers' commitment and dedication to traffic safety in our community," Chief Kevin Orr said.

The National Law Enforcement Challenge rewards the best overall traffic safety programs in the United States. The Challenge recognizes a department's efforts to enforce laws and educate the public on occupant protection, impaired driving and speeding. Winning departments are those that are able to combine officer training, public information and enforcement to reduce crashes and injuries within their communities.
